We are back!!!! Felt good to sleep in my own bed. We will be updating the photos later as well as quite a few posts about our trip. All I can say is WOW. Italy blew me away with how old and beautiful everything was. Best thing about France was the Normandy cemetery where our WWII troops are buried. It was very emotional and made me want to watch Saving Private Ryan again for the beach scenes. Most everywhere we went was nice, and we felt very welcome. Amberpoo loved her gifts.
