Well, I can say that they are starting to trickle into the Houston area now. A coworker just picked one up at SAMS, but when I called they where all out. I now have four games, an extra wireless controller and two plug and charge kits, but no XBOX360 to use them on. Tomorrow morning I am going to go and camp out at the Best Buy that is near me to see if I can get one from there. Hope I don't freeze!!!
